

Project Summary

Topic and Purpose:

The purpose of my website, Eggcellent, is to educate people on the health benefits of eggs and the many ways that people can include eggs in their nutritional diet. The audience of my website can range from experienced cooks who wish to creatively utilize eggs in their recipes to novice cooks who wish to know more about cooking with eggs. The overall design and color theme of my website is meant to give an elegant yet modern appeal for the younger and older generation alike.

Extra #1 (Form that submits to a page):

The contact form allows users to submit any questions or feedback about the website. The form requires a name and email where they can be reached and a message. This was created by including the “required” attribute in the input tags. When the user has filled all the required inputs, the send button will send the user to a confirmation page where he/she is notified that the message was received.

Extra #2 (Jquery and Bootstrap plugin):

- Fade in/out elements on scroll
 - My website utilizes this plugin to fade the header of each page when scrolling. The visual effect of fading is meant to make the website look more interactive and modern.

- Bootstrap modal popups
 - When a recipe is clicked, the modals are used to provide more information of the recipe to the users. It includes a brief summary of the recipe, the amount of ingredients needed, and a link to the corresponding recipe.
